The C. B. Shimp Land Company report the sale of the A. E. Swanson land near Kirkcaldy. Mr. Swanson and family are moving to the Peace River country, where they have purchased land. They also anticipate getting a homestead near their present holdings.

The Advocate appreciated a call from Mr. Wm. Butchart, Jr., on the day following his return home to Vulcan. Mr. Butchart has just completed a course at the Technical School at Calgary. He is one of our boys that has made his way well in the Vulcan schools and was not without distinction in the course of his advanced studies. Soon he will be required to leave the town of his youth to follow his profession, and should our wish prevail his success will certainly not be limited.

Pupils and teachers of the grades one to six of the local school have made the gift of a splendid chain and excellent knife to Mr. Ian Sims, retiring caretaker of the schools. These articles of value and usefulness are tokens of appreciation of a service which has been faithfully rendered and has contributed much to the comforts and pleasures of the school days of students and tutors. It was a gracious thing to make this gift and parents and other citizens will commend the idea.

Mr. Ed. Charters is down from Barhead to spend Easter at his home here. He speaks interestingly of business, hockey, baseball, and the pleasures of life in the north country.

Messrs. George Munro and Colin McInnes were in Calgary this week and attended the finals of the boxing championships, which they describe as a very snappy event. Incidentally, they will make the visit count to the advantage of the boxing promotions in which they are interested here in Vulcan.

Boxing fans are looking forward with great enthusiasm to the meeting of Kwieczak and Mahon on the 14th. This promises to be a real fight, and with the preliminaries being of a like character, the card should further enhance considerably the excellent reputation the local branch of the Canadian Legion is building up in the fight game. Two of the boys in the preliminaries are sponsored by our old friend Basil Daines, which is a sufficient guarantee that they are real contenders. The boys of the Legion are looking forward to a capacity house and a substantial sum towards the building fund.

Vulcan just can not keep out of the spot. Mr. Moxin, one of the ball promoters at High River, in an interview with the sporting editor of The Calgary Albertan, said: "We have probably the best material for baseball since the pro club at Vulcan in 1919." The paper gives prominence to an article on baseball under the head "Southern town assembles some classy material," and it is stated therein that the business men of the town will put about twenty-five hundred dollars into a purse for a tournament on May 24th. All this will revive a pride in Vulcan in our time of years ago, but will perhaps create a regret that it does not appear that we are to have a team like the old one that might go over to the River town and cop at least a bit of that big money.

Arrangements are under way by the Vulcan Golf Club for a men's competition to begin at once, with a similar competition for ladies and juniors to follow shortly after the course has been prepared for this season. The competition will be a medal play between the President and Vice President, and the side having the best aggregate score will be guests at a banquet to be given by the losers. The executive have also arranged to present the golfer turning in the best score with a gold medal, which will be open for competition any time during the season. It is hoped the competition will be completed by April 30th. Score cards will be available from the pro or the secretary. Mr. C. H. McMillan is president and Mr. Al Burrows is vice president.

Mr. Harry Minnie comes to Vulcan to join the sales staff and the McAskile clothing store. Mrs. Minnie is also here, and the young couple will receive the usual Vulcan welcome.

That portion of property on the lane opposite the Vets club has been purchased by Mr. P. B. Discher from Mr. D. C. Jones. This will make a splendid business location, and perhaps indicates plans for the future. The transaction is not new, but permission for publicity has just been secured.

The local golf club has just closed the engagement of Mr. George Barnes as the professional of the club for this season. Mr. Barnes was in the employ of the club some couple of years ago, and his services and popularity was such that his return to Vulcan will be welcome. The golf club plan on a very active season and on the improvement of the course.

"Kwieczak on the War Path" is the heading of an article carried one morning this week by The Albertan. It was the challenge of the boxer named to one and several mitt men for an engagement in the ring at any time. Jimmy Mahon was included in the list, and eventually the challenge is intended as a confirmation of the negotiations that were on at the time for a match between these boys.

The town council, at the regular meeting on Monday night, received application from both the baseball and football clubs for exclusive use of the park on May 24th. The council advised that the clubs make the effort to arrange the matter so as to suit the purposes of both. It is a good guess that we will have a double-bill program for Victoria Day, with the clubs splitting on the proceeds of the event.

Now, when threshing is starting again and the delivery of grain to the elevators is expected to be resumed is good time to mention a record that has not before been reported. Grain returns this year have been more remarkable for the quantity than the grade, and so it is that distinction comes to Mr. Gordon McKay for having delivered the only number one wheat received this season at Vulcan. The wheat was received by Mr. Geo. McMann at the Home Grain elevator.

Membership certificates for the Vulcan football club are having ready sale with the public, indicating that the record established last year by the club is securing for them support in their start this year. To assist in the financing of the club for an even better season this year, the organization is promoting a dance, the same to be held on Friday, the 13th. The day and the date prompts the suggestion from one who is not superstitious that it be called the "good luck" dance. Bird's Red Birds is the orchestra that will furnish the music, and if the boys have the speed and knack in promoting the dance that they have shown in playing the game it will surely be a championship event.

More news about the hospital, and good news. The board of management in conference this week with the official architect, Mr. R. P. Blakey, of Edmonton. The chief business of the session was the study of the plans of the proposed hospital building presented and explained by the architect, and these were accepted by the board. Preparations for building operations will commence when the site has been approved by the government sanitary engineer, and that official is expected to be here any day to make the inspection. The plans accepted by the board have been seen and examined by some, and to all they indicate a very substantial building of plain design and not lacking in beauty. The lay-out for hospital use is designed to include those features which experience has demonstrated.

The Calgary Kiddies last Friday night provided a rare treat at the community hall, which was well filled despite the very bad condition of the streets and roads, some coming quite a number of miles. For two hours, these bright children gave an almost continuous program, that their in-practice, Mrs. McDonald may well be proud of and which goes to show just what can be done with young children, when taken in charge by such capable instructors as are found in The McDonald Academy. The program comprised an excellent variety of dances, song, dialogues and monologues, that were delightful and the costumes left nothing to be desired. Whenever Mrs. McDonald chooses to bring the Calgary Kiddies to Gleichen again she may rest assured of a good patronage. Gleichen Call. These clever little kiddies are appearing in Vulcan Thursday, April 12.

The tennis club dance on April 17, is an event which is being anticipated with interest by dancers young and old.

Dividing fame with the world-known Henry, Mr. Gordon McKay has the distinction of being the first locally to receive delivery of a new Ford car. The car was purchased from the Pyramid Motors, dealers at Vulcan.

In anticipation of the final passing of a by-law, temporary restrictions will require that new buildings erected in town must be of the minimum value of $2500. This will apply only to a limited area, consisting of some eight blocks. In the meantime the by-law will be in process, with the possibility of a change in the figure.

Mr. Adams, representing the firm Adams, Sons & Company, has been in Vulcan for some days, his business being the introduction of Magic Gas and Battery Lite, the product of his company. Stocks of these compounds have been placed for retail with several firms in town. Mr. Adams will go next to Champion for a like purpose.

The school board has secured the permission of the town council for the removal of the mound of earth taken from the tennis court in the playground. The same will be used in filling at the school grounds, which is part of an ambitious program-planned by the school board and will include planting and a general improvement of the spacious school property. The council has also made the gift of fifty trees for the purpose from the park nursery.

The town council was petitioned by the local football club for permission for the establishment of a football pitch in the park. This has been granted conditionally. The grounds will be laid out to accommodate the footballers and without interference to the other games played at the park. Having all these things within one enclosure will be an advantage at least on the occasion of "big days." The football boys, now that a permanent location is assured, will no doubt aim to make the playing area such as to make possible the best there is in the game.

Getting more like New York every day. It has been decided by the municipal authorities that sixteen lamps be added to the town street lighting service. This will make the total of lamps sufficient to secure the price of $3.00 per lamp per month, in accordance with an agreement with the Vulcan Light and Power Company. This will also make a reduction of better than half the price per lamp that obtained in the old days, before the advent of hydro. The addition will be so distributed as to get the best general results in illumination. The general improvement in this department will include the passing of the good old post at the intersection of our main thoroughfare which, though not famed for beauty, has long directed driver and pedestrian to the right. And so it goes, the old must at last give place to the new.

There has been a re-organization of the orchestra which has made Vulcan its centre for some time, and the result anticipated and desired is an assured permanency of the organization. There has been no change in the personnel, the public here and elsewhere having given approval to Frank Bird, Arthur Arsenault, Charlie Brownhill and Harold Twiss as a highly satisfactory combination of versatile instrumentalists. Their business is dance music, but they individually contribute to the community idea by assisting the citizens' band, playing at local entertainments and generally doing their bit as useful young men about town. They have secured an auto for transportation purposes and will make the effort to greatly enlarge the area of their activities. They are immensely popular in the immediate territory.

The annual meeting of the Vulcan Rest Room committee was held on Saturday, March 31. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Richardson, president; Mrs. McKinnon, vice president; Mrs. Oldfield, secretary-treasurer. Receipts for the year amounted to $431.04, and were from the following sources: Reid Hill W. L. $15.00; Good Deeds W. L. $35.00; High Hill W. L. $20.55; Vulcan W. L. $200.00; Berrywater C.F.W.A. $15.00; Golden Rule W. L. $10.00; Maple Leaf Girls Club $5.00; Ensign Ladies' Aid $3.00; Kirkcaldy W. L. $18.10; Eastway W. L. $10.00; Red Cross C.F. A. $25.00; Mite Box $13.94; Exchange $12.95; Mrs. Doane's quilt $17.00; Mayview C.F.A. $25.00. The expenditures included payment of $292.30 on building, coal $52.62, and there is cash on hand $110.50. One hundred dollars is to be paid now on the building, leaving a balance of $439.38 to be paid before the first of July. The accounts of the committee were audited by Mr. R. L. Elves.

The excavation has been made for the cellar of a new residence to be erected by Mr. S. Wegh. Mr. Wegh is the owner of an entire block, and the house will be situated on the opposite end of the property to that on which his flour mill is located. The drillers have completed a well on the place which is distinctive in that it produces more water of good quality at a less depth than any well in town. Mr. Wegh will get his credit for the contribution he makes to the local building enterprises planned in Vulcan this season.

The Citizens' Band is now at the highest point of excellence in its years of existence. Assured of an engagement at the Calgary exhibition, and anticipating a band competition at the same event, the boys are applying themselves to practice with an enthusiasm that produces an excellence that delights Conductor Oler and will make our citizens more proud of the organization. Good luck usually goes with earnest effort, and to the roster is this week added Handsman Allan, a musician of unusual talent. Vulcan people will again have opportunity of noting the progress of the band, for they contemplate appearing in concert at an early date.

Mr. Dick Adams appeared on Sunday morning with a terribly injured countenance. Mr. Adams is the local electrician, and always quick to respond when there is trouble anywhere on the service. When the lights went out on Saturday night he headed for the sub-station on the run, and when in the vicinity of the picture house a loose board flipped him into a nose dive into the grit and furrowed mud of the street. Bruised and cut and bleeding, he stuck to business until there was light, and then to the physician and to bed. The injuries certainly made a mess of him and with them was the accompaniment of suffering, but there will not likely be any permanent injury.

This week it is for us to chronicle the passing of another Vulcan district resident. John Christie died at his home north of Vulcan on April 3rd. Deceased was born in Scotland, forty-eight years ago, and later lived ten years in the United States. He came to Canada thirteen years ago, and since purchased the Kelly property fifteen miles north of Vulcan. He married Miss Helen Norris, and to them was born three sons and three daughters, all natives of Canada. Mr. Christie was widely known in the district and commanded high esteem. He pursued an even tenor, without ostentation making his contribution of community service, being president of the U.F.A. local and continuously for eleven years was a member of the school board in his district. His neighbors and other friends pay tribute to his memory and extend sympathy to those who remain to experience a great loss.

EASTER

Never did the world need the essential meaning and the spiritual stimulus of Easter more than in this year of grace. On every hand are those whom the state of the world disheartens. We are told, if we listen to their lamentation, that religion has failed, that the plain, homely virtues of faith and loving kindness and mercy are dead or inoperative, and in this vale of tears the mourners are the most sensible of mortals, since there is no reason to rejoice in anything we hear or see. To such an attitude of mind Easter comes as a shining and a beautiful refutation, as an angel seen by those who are in sorrow round a tomb. Easter is not to be observed merely as the commemoration of a triumph over the grave, a victory over death, nineteen centuries ago. It stands for the glory and the power of a resurrection here and now—of a rebirth day, of the springing of new life in the glad hour for "a confident tomorrow." The meaning of the festival is not to be confined with the ceremony of any sect or any ritual. It cannot all be told in music or in flowers or in the wings and fire of the most eloquent of sermons. It is not all in the glow of the hour of prayer and praise and song. It goes far deeper than words can utter; it reaches the deepest of the truths we know, at the very heart of our human lives, in their need of that which is higher than ourselves, and in their aspiration toward that which is true eternally. It is each man's resurrection and not that of Christ alone on which this day insists forever. It is in your power and mine to cast off what is of the heart earthly, that holds us down to the mud and the material. Easter is the freedom and light, the upspringing joy of the emancipation of the soul of man. Least of all the festivals is it a time for selfish introspection, for the backward look and the unprofitable remembrance of failure and disaster, the sin-besetting and the shame-disfiguring the pattern of our human lives. It is, instead, the time for the looking and thinking and acting beyond and away from ourselves. As in the solemn and beautiful jubilee we consider the lilies, and hear the music, and feel the inspiration of the sermon and enter into the radiance and the rapture of the morning, let us take thought how we may impart to other lives and bring to other hearts the joy we feel, knowing that as we are ministered unto it is our duty to minister and to spread abroad the message of the Eastertide to a world that needs all the cheer that any has to give.

A BIG GIFT YEAR

The Literary Digest says that Americans in the year 1927 gave away almost $200,000,000 as gifts from foundations and other philanthropies. Huntington Foundation between $10,000,000 and $50,000,000; Mrs. Emory, wife of the inventor of the Emory wheel left $20,000,000 for charitable and educational work; Henry Buhl, capitalist, created a fund of $15,000,000 for charity; U.S. Government gave Mississippi flood sufferers $10,000,000; the Rockefeller family gave two million for a League of Nations library and $1,600,000 to people of France for restoration of national monuments destroyed by the Germans; Eastman, the Kodak manufacturer gave $1,500,000 to Royal Free Hospital of London. Millions were also given to Hebrew, Roman Catholic and Protestant churches, for the elimination of diseases, cancer and sleeping sickness research. It is interesting to note in this connection that the fraternal order of Elks set aside $2,000,000 for fighting tuberculosis and aiding crippled children. The Carnegie fund donated $1,000,000 for playgrounds for British children.

The man who contends that the custom of riding everywhere will prevent us having any infantry in the next war, will not be responsible, whatever happens. He has given warning.

VALUE OF A NAME

What's in a name? The answer for generations back has been "nothing." True a rose by any other name would smell as sweet but try to sell it under a different name if you would better estimate the value of a name. The name of Alexander, Hannibal, Caesar and Napoleon evacuated walled cities, turned whole armies into disastrous retreat, and conquered empires. Those names obtained their magic from the deeds of their owners. Because his name might have been Smith would not have prevented Shakespeare from writing his classic tragedies and in spite of their common names George Washington and Abraham Lincoln won immortal fame. Genius is as accidental as its name. And yet manufacturers spend millions annually on names. For the purpose of establishing a trade name business enterprises conduct nation-wide and even world-wide advertising campaigns. To many manufacturers the name of their product is their fortune, a fortune which could not be amassed without the aid of advertising. Modern business has learned that the three essentials for success in merchandising are a worthy product, a trade-mark and an adequate advertising campaign. Advertising is as essential to retail business as to the manufacturer. This applies as forcibly to farmers as to businessmen and every farmer should have a name for his farm and his correspondence should be done on properly printed stationery bearing name of farm and the owner.

DIFFERENT NOW

It used to be frequently said in smaller towns that it is the business of a good citizen to mind his own business, keep out of debt and avoid breaking laws. It was commonly thought that if he did that, it was about all that could be expected of him, and he was conforming to the ideals of good citizenship, says the Sudbury Star. But a community's development cannot be promoted in these times on any such limited basis. The fact that so many small town people have this spirit, and expect to get along without doing anything particular to boost community movements, is one of the principal reasons why some towns do not get ahead faster. Some must take hold and carry on the work of churches and fraternal societies. Some of the men with a special head for business need to work in some organization for the commercial and other needed development of the community. Some need to work in clubs for educational purposes, and for more interesting social activities. There is something that each one should do and all must take hold to do something in these public lines, if the town is expected to keep up with the game. People should not act as if they were making a great sacrifice if they devote a little of their time to such purposes. It is the duty of every citizen to love his home town and be ambitious to see it go ahead, and at this season of the year clean up premises, plant trees and flowers and beautify the place in which they live and have their being.

INSECTS ARE OUR ENEMIES

Stanley Baldwin, England's Prime Minister, and one of her most advanced farmers, says that of all the crops raised by man on the entire earth, one tenth is destroyed by insects. According to the New York Times human beings and insects face a death grapple for the mastery of the earth, with the odds favoring the insect. In this connection it is interesting to learn that on the Sudan Egyptian frontier poison gas warfare is being used to exterminate locusts and with success. Only a few years ago malaria was rated among the deadliest of diseases. When it was understood the mosquito was the carrier, science was concentrated on that insect and the ravages of the disease soon diminished and is now under control. We owe a great deal to science.

The main aim of the weekly newspaper as the names implies, is to give news of its own district. It may have other aims, such as to give the merchants a chance to tell of their goods in its columns or to try to influence public opinion through its editorials; but first of all it must give the news.

Henry Ford and wife are now in Europe. The first trip since his historic Peace Ship trip in 1915 when he thought he could get the boys out of the trenches.

HE IS RISEN

Far to the east, the rose of dawn slowly pierces the veil of night. To usher in another day A day that bringeth, mankind, light. Thou, who hast felt the sorrow keen, The pain so great 'tis black despair, Lift up thine eyes and hearts once more; An Angel from heaven standeth there "Behold the place where He was laid" The door of stone is rolled away. He, Our Lord is risen, risen! O joyous, glorious Easter Day. O'er mountain, valley, hill and dale Triumphantly peal forth the strain, From far and near the echoes ring This joyful, sweet and glad refrain Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia!

—S. E. Kiser

THE BUYER DICTATES

One thing was impressed upon the Canadian farmers who recently toured Britain. This was that those who would sell on the British market must prepare and pack their products in the way that the British market likes. Many British producers have lost out in Canada because they expected Canada to alter its buying habits to suit British production methods. Canadian producers who expect to market their goods in Britain must produce what the Britishers are accustomed to buying, must pack and grade them as the Britisher desires and must adhere to a definite marketing policy that insures continuity of grade, supply and marketing method.

SOW ONLY THE BEST

The use of better quality seed grain by farmers throughout the province this spring is being urged in order to maintain the high standard which Alberta crops have established in the past. Lack of care in the selection of seed, with the consequent lowering in the quality of crop produced, will very soon reduce the demand for Alberta wheat on the markets of the world and correspondingly lower the prices received by the grower. The remedy for this situation is largely in the hands of the individual farmer. The man who sows weed seeds with his grain has himself to blame for the lowered grading he will receive for his crop at the elevator and the dockage imposed. Seed drill surveys conducted in the province by the Dominion Seed Branch indicate that the average seed put into the ground grades "rejected" according to legal standards as to the number of weed seeds present. The thorough use of the fanning mill on all seed grain will help the present and future crops by checking the spread of weeds which use valuable plant food. If a farmer is not in a position to purchase registered seed, which can be secured from the Provincial Seed-Cleaning Plant at Edmonton, he can at least use a high quality of commercial seed of one of the varieties of recognized merit. This is especially important in the case of wheat as a wide variation exists among varieties as to their suitability for milling purposes. Seed of mixed varieties or of an inferior milling wheat cannot yield the product demanded by the millers.

THE CARE OF EGGS

Here Follows an Article For Care of Eggs for Shipping Purposes That is Worth Careful Reading

With the exception of three months in the year, the rooster, while not harmful, nevertheless causes the production of fertile eggs. If held at temperatures ranging from 68 degrees F. to incubation temperature, a fertile egg will start to incubate. If held at 85 or 90 degrees for three or four days, a fertile egg will show as much chick development as for one day under a setting hen. If this action continues, and the embryo lives, the blood vessels are seen when the egg is candled. If the embryo dies during the growing period, a blood ring is formed by the settling of the blood vessels. An egg of this type is useless for human consumption. If a fertile egg is to be marketed in good condition, every possible precaution must be taken to preserve its quality. During the summer, as there is not enough room on many farms, that will be sufficiently cool to prevent eggs from starting to incubate, the only remedy is to get the roosters out of the flock before hot weather begins. The roosters may be killed, sold or confined when not needed in the breeding flocks.

Other causes of loss are—dirty eggs, shrunken eggs, cracked eggs and bad flavors in eggs. Dirty eggs become inedible very quickly, because bacteria easily pass through a dirty shell. Shrunken eggs often occur during summer because of faulty handling. Cracked eggs may be preventable. Cracked and broken eggs are caused by thin shells, by careless handling and by insufficient nesting room. Bad flavors in eggs may result from mold, absorption of odors, or feeding of certain feeds.

Loss in market eggs result from—dirty eggs; delivery of fertile eggs to market; washed eggs; shrunken eggs; cracked or broken eggs; bad flavored eggs.

To sell the best market eggs—Kill off the rooster when the breeding season ends; Keep strong, healthy, vigorous stock and care for it properly; Gather eggs frequently; Provide plenty of clean, well padded nests; Keep out the cracked, dirty, small and very large eggs for home use; Always keep eggs in a cool, dry place; Keep eggs free from obnoxious odors; Do not wash eggs, slight dirt can be removed by use of steel wool; Market eggs as regularly and as often for market to direct sunlight, rain or to extreme heat; Always use sound, serviceable cases and whole, clean fillers and flats.

What gets wet with drying?—A towel.

STRIKING THE FIAR

Following Article Illustrates the Methods of Determining the Grades of Grain in Scotland

A correspondent writing in the Dundee Evening Telegraph, a copy of which has been handed to us by Mr. Durham of Cayley has an interesting article on what is termed "Striking the Fiars" and which will be interesting to members of the Wheat Pool as it suggests a way out of the present unfair grading system of grain. The writer says "The annual court for striking the fiars which has just been held in each Scottish county dates back to more than 200 years. The origin of the practice of "striking the fiars" is unknown. The origin of the plural word "fiars," too, is uncertain; but it is generally connected with the Latin word "forum" (market) and thus signifies "market prices." Fiars prices, in the law of Scotland, are the average prices of the different kinds of grain grown in each county. These are fixed every year by the Sheriff, after the verdict of a jury.

Every February, the Sheriff summons a number of persons in his shire who have had experience in the prices of grain in the county. From these are chosen fifteen to form a jury—eight of them being heritors. Evidence is brought before them of the price of grain grown in the county and they return a verdict and the Sheriff pronounces his sentence. Some times the Sheriff has power to fix fiars of different values according to the different qualities of the grain.

The prices fixed are used in settling contracts where no prices have been agreed upon; they serve as part or whole payment of rents to landlords, in fixing stipends of parochial ministers, and are very useful in other ways.

The practice of "striking the fiars" is supposed to have been first used to determine the value of grain rents payable to the Crown. For this purpose, the Sheriff merely made a return of the prices of grain in his county to the Court of Exchequer, which struck the fiars. This was the reason for the term "Sheriff-fiars."

At the same time there was another class called commissaries' fiars, which were settled by the fiars derived from the produce of the land for the maintenance of the clergy.

The latter have been long out of use. The present procedure arose from the Act of Sederunt, passed in 1723 which provided that the fiars should be struck by the Sheriff before the first day of March. The fiars Court is not universally observed. Its authority is disregarded in Haddingtonshire where the fiars are fixed by the Sheriff alone and there is no jury. Protest was at one time made against the practice in this county, but the Court refused to interfere for the fiars were better struck in Haddingtonshire than anywhere else.

Generally, however, Sheriffs follow the 1723 Act but with much variety of detail.

DEATH OF J. W. INGS

A Pioneer Stock Man of High River
District Passed Away at California
After an Operation

J. Walter Ings, one of the earliest cattle men in Alberta, died at La Jolla, California, on Thursday, March 29, following an operation. Mrs. Ings and his daughter, Marjorie, were with him until the end came. The body will be brought to Calgary for interment in the family plot in the Union cemetery, where an infant daughter, and a son, George, who died in 1916, aged 15, are buried. The date of the funeral is not yet known.

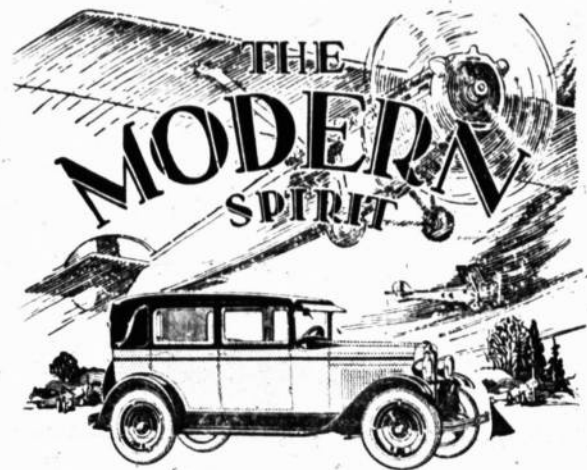

Walter Ings came to High River district, from Charlottetown, P.E.I., in 1884, and joined his brother Fred, who had already established himself with a bunch of cattle, west of High River, on a place bought from Smith & French, pioneers in the district. The partnership continued until 1900 when it was dissolved, Fred going to the Nanton district.

In 1918, Mr. Ings sold his entire holdings in High River to P. Burns, consisting of 10,000 acres of deeded land, 8,000 acres of leased land, and from 1,000 to 1,200 head of high grade cattle. He removed to Vancouver, where he, with Mrs. Ings and his daughter, made his home ever since. The family made a yearly winter visit to California, and would have been on the eve of returning, when Mr. Ings was compelled to undergo the operation from the effects of which he never rallied.

One brother, Dr. George Ings, resides at Fort McMurray. Fred is still ranching near Nanton, and Ernest lives in Vancouver. A sister, Mrs. Crawford Frost, lives at Nanton.

The late Mr. Ings and family made annual trips to Alberta since disposing of their ranch and were expected here this summer. The news of Mr. Ings' death was learned with deepest regret by numerous friends residing in this community.

At the Fat Stock Show at Regina last week, McKenzie Bros. of La-combe, sold three car lots of butcher steers for 11 cents per pound. This record price shows that packers will willingly pay top prices for high quality beef and that is the kind for our stockmen to breed and feed.

In power, in speed and snap, the "Bigger and Better" Chevrolet is no less modern and vigorous. Countless refinements in engine and chassis give Chevrolet a performance as dependable as it is brilliant. ## "CALLER HERRIN"

Did you ever notice the two different strains running through the music of that beautiful song, "Caller Herrin"? We don't think it is generally known that the words were set to music by a son of New Glasgow, the well-known violinist. He was sitting in a room in Edinburgh near one of the Fish Markets, and could hear the fishwives crying in their shrill musical voices—"Caller Herrin!" and in between he could hear a new peal of bells near being tested in a church near by, and the bells were running down the scale. The genius took both sounds and composed his beautiful melody. Hum it over and you will observe the plaintive call of the women, and the ringing tone of the bells.

USE OF AIRPLANES

Rapid Progress Being Made in the Use and Development of the Airplanes in Govt. and Private Life

It is truly amazing some of the uses to which the airplane is now being put all over the wide world. In parts of Canada the airplane was used for destroying insects by scattering clouds of poison and in mapping localities otherwise difficult of access. At High River the airplane has been used and is still being used as a means of forest preservation, topographical surveys and as noted below is now being introduced on large ranches by its enterprising owners. Norse fishermen use the airplane for spotting shoals. In the Gulf of Finland, 38 ships were locked fast in the ice and airplanes carried food to the beleaguered craft. In Eastern Siberia Russians are using planes to carry gold from the gold fields in five hours that formerly occupied 35 days by horses. In the North Pacific, airplanes work with whalers to locate whales in the ocean.

Two super dirigibles are now being built in England for commercial operation by an Anglo-American company. It will be a prodigious, cigar shaped balloon with capacity for 100 passengers and tons of mail. This dirigible will be ready for the air next September and it is said that Col. Lindbergh, Commander Byrd, Clarence Chamberlain and Ruth Elder will be honored guests on the historic occasion of its first transatlantic flight. It will be a veritable flying hotel. Imagine the opportunities before the holiday maker. The fare across will be $400.

George Ross who bought the Deerm Creek ranch, was a former member of the Air Force during the world war and he has purchased an airplane for use in travelling from his Alberta holdings to his Saskatchewan ranch. He is also building a private telephone line.

Mr. Sick of the Lethbridge Breweries is another man who has invested in an airplane which he will use in connection with his business. Looks as if airplanes will be as common as Chevrolet after a while.

The growing importance of the part being played by aviation in forest protection against fire in Canada is shown by the large part of the total flying time devoted to forest patrols. In 1916 the total flying time of Royal Canadian Air Force craft devoted to civil operations was 2278 hours, of which 1132 hours was required for the work of the Forest Service, Department of the Interior.

TOURISTS COMING

Guy Weadick Anticipates a Big Influx of Tourists This Season. Hopes to See Roads Improved to the West

Guy Weadick who owns the T. S. Ranch on the North Fork of the Highwood, advises that many prominent people from eastern Canada and various parts of the States have signified their intention of coming to Calgary for the stampede, and later spending some time at his ranch up the Highwood. Among those expected are Mr. Denton Massey of Toronto, of the Massey-Harris firm, and some friends, a crowd of prominent authors of western stories among whom are Will James, who wrote "Smoky," Clem Yore, Ross Santee, Walt Coburn Owen White of The New York Times and several more.

Mr. Weadick says that in a recent letter from his neighbor Frazier Hunt who owns the Eden Valley Ranch, that Hunts also expect to return to their foothill property in May. They also expect several guests to come to the stampede, as well as to visit them at their ranch this summer, among whom will possibly be Mr. Peter B. Kyne, the well known author. Besides being an author of international reputation, Mr. Kyne is a practical range cattleman, being vice-president of the Alamo Land and Cattle Company, one of the prominent ranching concerns in California. It is to be hoped that the Government will do some improvement work on the trail leading up the Highwood this year, as there can be no doubt, but what the traffic during the summer months, warrants at least a passable road. Hundreds of Albertans motor over the trail each summer for camping and fishing parties, not to mention, the outside tourists who come long distances to holiday in camps and the various tourist resorts up the river.

EXAMPLE OF THE CHOIR

You hear it said frequently that a choir in order to be efficient has to be faithful in attendance at rehearsals and church services, but on the other hand can a church be fully efficient without the regular and faithful attendance of the members at church services? It is worth thinking over in connection with all religious denominations in this and other places. What a difference it would make to religious meetings if the rank and file of the membership took lessons from the choirs, as far as faithfulness in attendance is concerned!

The British racing aviator, Lieut. Kinthead, who was killed while on a speed trial in a Napier engine plane, was travelling at a speed of 330 miles per hour before the fatal crash.

RANCH HOUSE FIRE

To many an old-timer, the destruction by fire of the Bar U ranch home, is like the passing of an old friend. The fire occurred at eleven o'clock, Sunday morning, and the flames once gaining headway, nothing could be done to avert complete loss. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. McLaughlin, manager under the P. Burns Company, and his wife, were occupants of the ranch house, and though details of the fire are hard to obtain, they and the other employees of the ranch must have fought heroically to rescue household effects and to prevent flames from reaching other buildings. The long grass lying between the main house and adjoining buildings, was a special danger point. And, while the loss of this old and cherished landmark is very serious, particularly from a sentimental viewpoint, yet much greater destruction might have occurred.

The house was built in 1883 by George Stimson. In 1884 George Lane went to work at the Bar U. Some years later, when he had taken over the place he built an addition. And again in 1919, before the visit of the Prince of Wales, he built another modern addition. The building was of log throughout and carried the charm of older days, along with the modern facilities, such as electric lighting and water system. It was commodious, containing about a dozen rooms.

Many a distinguished guest has enjoyed the hospitality of this ranch house through the years. Amongst those entertained have been—the Duke of Devonshire and party; The Crown Prince of Japan and his party which included an Admiral, a General and diplomats from the British Court Sir Roderick Jones (of Reuter's Agency) and Lady Jones; Lady Mount Stephen of Montreal and her party. Many others also have visited, and whether of high or low degree, all were welcomed. An old "hand" was welcomed with the same sincerity as royalty.

Much anxiety had been felt at first as to whether or not the old fireplace trophies, won in the George Lane regime for Percheron horses, had been saved. But these were rescued. They included cups, prizes and diplomas from all over the continent. Another valuable possession was the "Guests' Book," containing the names of visitors throughout the years.

A curious co-incidence is that Herb Miller, manager for many years under George Lane, had just arrived to take over the management under Mr. Burns, succeeding Mr. McLaughlin. His duties commenced on April 2nd, and he and Mrs. Miller spent Sunday with Mrs. Harry Baines at the South Fork Trading Post. It was rather a sad home-coming for him.

It was Mr. Miller himself who built the first shack on the Bar U. He came up from Ft. Benton by ox team in 1882, and later in the year he, George Emerson and M. Meinsinger, went up to the Bar U to put up a shack. The following year Mr. Stimson built the original ranch house.

NEW RAILWAY BILL

The railway committee of the commons passed the bill to incorporate the Highwood Western Railway and also the bill respecting the Calgary and Fernie Railway. The former is a new charter. The latter is only another two-year time extension of an old charter. The company claims to have spent $50,000. The bill of the new projected line was so amended as to provide that where the two roads parallel, the Highwood line shall not duplicate the older one for two years. If, by that time the C. & F. road is built, the other will have running rights. It is not built, then the Highwood company can construct the section, but there must be no duplication.

George Coote, M.P., speaking on the matter, said that the main purpose of the Highwood Western bill is to afford access to the coal deposits of Highwood river. The principal promoter is Harry Ford, who seeks a railway to the coal fields by which the product could either be shipped easterly or down through Spokane and Seattle.

The incorporators are: Harry Albert Ford, coal owner; William Robertson, merchant; George Harry Webster, member of the legislative assembly of Alberta; Albert Earl Aikenhead, physician; John Allan Hunter, coal merchant; Frank Robertson Webster, financier; Robert J. McLaren, coal merchant, all of the city of Calgary, in the province of Alberta, and John C. McNabb, coal merchant, of the city of Winnipeg.

"The company may lay out, construct and operate a railway from a point on or near the Calgary and Edmonton railway in or near townships 20 or 21, in range 1, west of the 5th Meridian, in the province of Alberta, thence in a general south-westerly direction to the Highwood river in or near township 18 or 19, ranges 2 or 3, west of the 5th meridian, thence in a general direction westerly following the valley of the north branch of the Highwood river to the western boundary of the province of Alberta, in townships 16, 17 or 18, thence in a general southerly direction down the valley of the Elk river to a point at or near Sparwood, on the Canadian Pacific Railway, in the province of British Columbia."

SAD EYED ONTARIO

Ontario People are Sad Eyed Because of Influence of Old Ontario Readers Containing Gruesome Stories

An old wound has been opened. The question of why other folk are forever picking at Ontario people has been revived. This is an ancient matter, dating from the days when the West was toddling to its feet. In those times, Winnipeg was the centre of all. In Winnipeg then, might be seen, at any time, at any place, groups engaged in grim battle. These groups were Ontario versus the Maritimes, or, one might say the world. Because a newcomer, drifting in just took time to ask "which is which?" and threw in against Ontario.

Now why? "Because" says an old timer in whom the old prejudice still rankles "these Ontario pilgrims were just naturally smug, and sad-eyed, and grabbed off the best jobs." Smug? Positively no—Grabbed the best jobs? Yes, purely, through the reward of merit. Sad-eyed? Yes, unquestionably sad-eyed. And for a reason. This is an argument so long persistent that it must be cleared up.

Ontario people are sad-eyed, because prematurely they were brought in touch with woe through the medium of the Old Ontario Readers. The Old Readers, on which all children were brought up contained possibly the finest collection of gruesome undeserved deaths, outside of the works of Edgar Allen Poe. It was apparently a systematic effort to impress upon children, that young lives are snuffed out at any moment, especially when in the pursuit of duty. It worked.

Ontario babies lulled to sleep by any infant gurgled just by the waters of the Atlantic. Then they went to school, and all was changed. In the second Reader, at the age of eight they were initiated into the story of the Children in the Wood—and at the age of ten, with the old Third Reader, they were plunged in a welter of disaster, from which they emerged permanently red-eyed and with a pessimistic outlook.

Starting with the first lesson, The White Ship which sailed forth laden with light hearted revellers, of all the gallant company, the poor butcher of Ruygen alone was saved. Well that wasn't a dead loss. But turn the succeeding pages. A long succession of marine disasters, little girls particularly, being wiped out while obeying parental authority. First, O Mary, go and call the cattle home, across the sands of Dee. The creeping mist came up, and never home came she. Then Mabel, little Mabel, with face against the pane, watches the taking off of her father and lover (supper all set. Two bodies stark and white, ah so ghastly in the light. If we remember, Mabel herself passed out with her face against the

You have before you every control in their most natural and handy place. And all about you, the panelling, the weather-stripped doors, the silenced body construction, the floor-matting and the hardware in graceful silvery patterns speak quietly and certainly of quality.

Let us demonstrate this great car to you. You would be under no obligation to buy.

pane. Lord Ullin's daughter too, was submerged, but deservedly in escaping from her father. The waters wild went over his child, and he was left lamenting. The bell on the Inchcape rock, which was cut by Sir Ralph the Rover, accounted for a whole flock of Rovers. Little Lucy, took the lantern in her hand, to guide her father home. She lost her way and the wretched parents all that night went shouting far and wide. No luck.

The May Queen got weaker and weaker for five pages, finally giving up with a last prayer for Robin. Little boys too, were assigned to impossible tasks only to be cut down. Witness the boy on the burning deck. Also the young messenger. "Wound ed! Nay, I'm killed sire. Smiling the boy fell dead." Into a world of white washed walls, somebody's darling was borne one day.

Adults escaped fairly lightly—though you remember the babies playing with the skull, and old Kaspar and bodies that lay rotting in the sun. There were of course some very fine soldiers. Leave me comrades here I drop, and Bingen on the Rhine. To aggravate the distress, in Ontario the practice of oral reading prevailed, and with quivering breath, the little ten-year olds blinked and sobbed their way through the pages, reading aloud the horrors "with nice expression." And ahead of them lay the Fourth Reader with the Death of Little Nell, the Loss of the Birkenhead, the Princess in the Tower, etc.

We have dragged out this mere handful of corpses from Ontario's past, reluctantly but from a sense of duty.

In the face of the skeleton strewn path of Ontario's childhood, is there any Maritimer now so callous as to jeer at the sad-eyed products?

EDITORIAL

Successful farming is like every other successful business in that it requires a lot of thinking and working combined with a fair measure of luck. And we think this particular little section of the country is especially favored in sound thinking, hard working class of farmers who surround us. The one thing they need is the luck.

DISILLUSION

BISHOP SHERMAN

"Unknown Endings" Subject of Address by Lord Bishop

A prominent divine in a sermon recently delivered had for his theme "Unknown Endings." It is the unknown and unseen, which has always exercised a lure for man. The unknown ending of a book, draws people into the reading of it. But if it be a good book, it does not really end. The characters enter the life of the reader as a new experience and are moulded into his life and action. A beautiful picture may be finished to the artist, but it reacts on the lives of all who view it. The refrain of a symphony, lingers on and on in the lives of those who hear it. Endings are but beginnings. Nothing ends.

Following this thought, the celebrated preacher turned to the four Gospel stories of the Bible, and their endings, which are caught up into the lives of men. In the conclusion of St. Mark's story, after the visit to the sepulchre, he says "They trembled, and were amazed—they were afraid." A holy fear is the foundation of religious experience. A worship of God's power is essential, not the mere doing good to one's neighbor. True religious belief is found not in investigation, but in revelation. To know the fullness of spiritual joy there must enter "a trembling and amazement" of the unseen.

In St. John, story concludes "Many other things Jesus did, which if they should be written, the world itself could not contain the books that should be written." This ending brings out the continuation of Christ's life through the ages. All the things which he did, could not be written, because daily the world in recording new deeds in His name. The story of his life, is being continued in every act of every individual. It goes on without end.

St. Luke's story ends: "They were continually in the temple, praising and blessing—God." Unattached, unorganized religion does not flourish. The churches of God continue this story in gathering people together for worship and praise. This communion together is the strength of worship.

St. Matthew concludes "All power is given unto me—Go ye therefore." Thus the message of Christ is to be carried on, from Christ the great source of all power, through His messengers throughout the world and the ages. A never-ending story. These endings of Christ's story, are, after all, a beginning. They have lived and are living through the ages in the lives of men.

NOTICE TO THRESHERS

Threshers who are completing the work this spring which was interrupted by the unfavorable weather in the fall of 1927 are reminded that they are required to send in to the Department of Agriculture full returns showing the number of acres and number of bushels of the various grains threshed for individual farmers from the 1927 crop. It is pointed out that this information is required to complete the crop statistics of the province for the season, and in the case of threshermen who sent in their forms covering the threshing done last fall, additional forms may be secured from the Department to report the operations during the present spring. Threshermen are of course permitted to complete the threshing of the 1927 crop on the license secured in 1927, but a new annual license must be secured from the Department before starting to thresh the 1928 crop.

LOOK TO YOUR SEED GRAIN

Germination tests of wheat which has been threshed this spring prove that the vitality has been badly damaged. If there is a widespread planting of this spring threshed wheat disastrous results will follow. The directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool are greatly concerned over this menace and urge farmers to have their seed tested for germination.

WEATHER WORRYING

Farmers and Others Ultimately Happy and Satisfied

In Southern Alberta, when we speak of the weather we are not merely uttering words. We are speaking of something that concerns us vitally. Fairly enough, we have been called "weather switherers," because our atmosphere conditions make or break us. Worse than that, we are not at all times agreed on what is good weather. With our ranching friends to the westward, we rejoiced in a chinook. But if it grows too zealous, we mourn with our farmers, who see their farms drifting from under them. If the show lies, heavy upon the wheat lands, we contemplate happily, the spring moisture—until we think of the cattle on the thousand hills.

Swither! Who wouldn't? If it is a wet spring, we shiver for the new born calves and know that the workers will never get on the land. They usually get on the land, but sometimes almost don't.

Then comes the season of the June frost. We anticipate and usually escape it. The crops are beautiful. What new dread is ahead? Perhaps grasshopper, perhaps drought, certainly hail, our spirits rising and falling with each different cloud effect.

August comes. The crops stand proudly. What now? The chilly night with frost. Thousands of noses are turned upward sniffing the air for frost. No frost.

Then the September snow storm—the rains that actually do materialize. The cruellest time of the year, when rich reward is almost in the hand. But not quite. Sometimes, as in this year, our dread anticipations are realized. There is reason, though no benefit, in our swithering.

We often dream of life on a higher plane, where rain doth not corrupt nor hail break through and steal. Albertans will be there in goodly numbers. They certainly have earned it. But it will take them some time to adjust themselves to a non-worrying climate.

It will be easy enough to recognize fellow-westerners by their brown achieving faces and their long-distance eyes. As we arrive, a stranger, we chance to hear "Great day—looks like a chinook." At once we recognize the man for a rancher. We see a big brown, twinkly-eyed fellow, with his four-inch halo pulled well over his face, and the shade of a red scarf round his neck. An old friend from High River. His companion, evidently a farmer, replies querulously "man, man, don't say chinook—that blame chinook may carry my farm clear to Winnipeg—I must see Wood about this." He is still earth-bound, poor fellow.

Amongst the spirits are many representatives from many points, still with a hang-over of earthly woes. The old cow men of course, are limping rather conspicuously, refusing to fly, and lamenting loudly the absence of their good old broncs. They are recalling similar times in the earth-world when they were set foot, miles—at least two miles—from anywhere.

Scattering round are little groups of men, observing conditions keenly, and drafting resolutions.—These are U.F.A.'s.

Women are very prominent. They too, are taking an active interest in general events. One group is busily discussing Resolution 2367 re child welfare, when one woman of the group interrupts proceedings with a piercing shriek. She thinks she has seen a hail cloud. Excitement spreads. A panic threatens, only averted by Mr. Wood's personal assurance that there is no hail on this plane. Discussion is resumed.

Take it all in all, this weather proposition has grown to be such an obsession with us, that it is feared we will have to pass through many planes, before we Albertans cease to sniff the air and scan the sky.

However of one thing we may be reasonably certain, on the next plane—Western U.F.A.'s will be in control for some time to come, and from this we may have a general idea of prevailing atmospheric conditions. It will be good growing, No. 1 hard wheat weather, with an occasional mild chinook for the ranchers. Manufacturers and townspeople generally may make what preparation they see fit.

OIL NEWS

Present indications are that the Dalhousie No. 1 well in Turner Valley, which was drilled in after many vicissitudes, will make 350 barrels of crude naphtha a day. The well made 361 barrels during the first day of its flow when properly connected with the separator. These facts are vouched for by company officials. It is quite possible that this well which is by far the best one so far in the field, with the exception of Royalty No. 4, will steadily increase its production. Royalty No. 4 increased production steadily for a long time after it blew in and has not decreased for any period since. The value of the crude naphtha in the field is $3.95 per barrel. J.H. McLeod, manager of the Imperial drilling operations, stated that it would be possible to get a better estimate of the production when the figures for monthly production are made public.

A HANDICAP TO THE TRADE

That one of the most aggravating problems confronting the egg trade at the present time is the far too frequent marketing of dirty eggs, is the opinion of Mr. W. A. Brown, chief of the Poultry Division of the Dominion Live Stock Branch. Farmers should realize, states Mr. Brown, that they can do much towards improving the egg industry by taking steps to prevent the production and marketing of dirty eggs and by discontinuing the very undesirable practice of washing eggs before marketing. Under any circumstances, it is inevitable that a few slightly dirty or stained eggs will appear. But the farmer who consistently produces and markets large numbers of dirty eggs surely does not realize the bad effect of this practice on his market. These eggs are unpopular with consumers and in many cities it is almost impossible to sell them at any price. Washed eggs are even more dangerous to the poultry industry than dirty ones. Washing destroys the natural protective bloom of the egg shell and, the shell being damp, mould spores often enter causing the egg to become unfit for food. At the same time it is not difficult to prevent the production of dirty eggs. What is needed is an abundance of clean, dry litter on the floor, plenty of nests, about one to every six hens, clean straw in the nests, and frequent gathering of the eggs.

That Alberta is an excellent province in which to prosper was evidenced recently when a farmer not far from here, exposed his bank book which showed a balance of $24,800 in savings in one of our local banks. This farmer holds besides several good mortgages and has a well improved farm and he declares he made it all in Alberta as a farmer.

According to a Washington statement more than a billion of dollars a year is lost by the people of the United States to get-rich-quick promoters and swindlers and the unfortunate part is that most of that amount is taken from widows and those who have only small means and want to get rich quick. As a rule the swindlers work through the mails.

An optimistic spirit prevailed at the annual meeting of the Alberta Clydesdale Breeders' Assn., held at Calgary this week. Breeders generally are looking forward to a more successful year in 1928 when they expect a greater interest will be taken in the province in the breeding of these horses for exhibition. He is survived by six sons all of whom are now living in Alberta, and six daughters, one living in Alberta and five in Ontario.

Farmers should exercise the greatest care this year in the selection of their seed grain. If poor seed grain is sown then Alberta grain cannot maintain present prices. Good grain was able to demand a bigger premium than ever on the markets world and improved crops would bring higher prices in any event. Canada is now trading on her reputation and it is up to us to maintain that reputation. A progressive farmer, representative of the Wheat Pool for this district gives the information that "grain from recently threshed fields is not germinating as it should the tests going from 40 to 50 per cent."

"The continued attempts to secure free publicity is the bane of the life of the weekly newspaper editors. Not a mail comes in that is not cluttered with articles that "would be of interest to your readers." But the jig is up, the maw of the wastepaper basket is always open and believe us it is well supplied. Publishing a newspaper costs money and the revenue necessary to carry on must come through the columns. If it is thought that the weekly editors are different from their fellows try the free publicity stunt on a daily newspaper. At the same time there is no greater publicity agency for a community than the weekly newspaper. Week after week it tells of the value, the importance and the progress of its community—with often very little gratitude."—Collingwood Bulletin.

The demand for farm lands in Lethbridge territory is very brisk and distinctly reminiscent of pre-war years. Real estate men report a veritable siege by buyers and farmers looking for land.

Denver capital will drill a test well in search of oil north-west of Calgary, not far from Cochrane. Toronto interests will drill in the Suffield field in Southern Alberta. Both are closed corporations with no stock for sale.

The shorthorn cow U A Roan Lady in the herd of the University of Alberta has completed a 365 day R.O.P. test and produced 15,128 pounds of milk with an average test of 4.3 per cent making a total of 664 lbs of butter fat.

Threshing was in progress on Monday, east of Lethbridge as they were not blessed with a snowfall until Tuesday morning. Plowing was in progress at Granum and Coaldale is the report brought back by Rose Bros after a trip south first of the week.

The half section, three miles south-east of Blackie, formerly owned by N. Lafraniere, has been sold to Mrs. Colin Campbell of Winnipeg. The farm is to be occupied and farmed by her son Colin Campbell. Mr. Campbell is the widow of the late Hon. Colin Campbell, Attorney General of Manitoba.

Mr. George H. Wark of Gladys sold his farm comprising 180 acres of highly improved land to his neighbor Mr. Charles Robbins for a good consideration. It was a cash deal and the price paid is further evidence of the high value of farm lands in this community. The farm stock, implements and household furniture was obtained by Mr. Wark who anticipates at a later date to engage in farming in a favored locality in Alberta. Mr. Robbins will take possession at once.

"If you were cast on an uninhabited but habitable island what person would you choose to take with, what toilet articles, what kitchen utensils, and what book?" was a question asked by a California professor of a class of 800 students. The answers were all single persons chose sweethearts, but none of the married ones chose their husbands or wives, six hundred chose soap as toilet article, and most voted for a pot to cook in and books of God were preferred.

REMARKABLE REMARKS

"Nobody is old at any age."

"Strict honesty in business dealing while a beautiful ideal, is almost impossible."

"Scientific research is needed to save Canada from eventually losing to great wheat crop."

Just as the ground was again assuming a prospective chance for the continuing of threshing, another snow storm, ending in a precipitation of nearly six inches of snow descended on us on last Monday evening and Tuesday following, and forecasted the impossibility of any work being undertaken on the fields for another week. It was somewhat discouraging to all but with the weather continuing warm it is expected that the snow will soon disappear and drying will quickly result. The prevailing prices on grains are most satisfactory.
